Trailer TBA

Video, Installation, TBA

LOCKED IN & TAPPED OUT came about after working as an escape-room game master and participating in the Dutch pilot of the reality competition The Genius. Mixing live action and 3D animation, the work takes the form of a fictional escape-room game show set inside a 3D model of NELLY DANSEN. The project explores Bimbofatigue™: the moment a persona becomes a character you can no longer log out of. Can you escape a version of yourself that you performed into existence?

CAN YOU?

WILL YOU?

DO YOU EVEN WANT TO?

Project XXX is shot during my 27th birthday that turned into a performative film experiment where nelly-lookalikes, detectives and a news-crew went on the hunt for the REAL Nelly. The film reflects on self-commodification, in a culture obsessed with ego & visibility.

If we are all NELLY DANSEN... no one is...

WARNING: EXPLICIT CONTENT (explicit in its meaning)

This film reenacts an encounter with U.S. border control, where deportation followed suspicions about artistic identity and sex work. The question "Are you a whore?" got asked after 2 border officers saw snippets of Head Over Heels. Despite its title and overall aesthetic suggesting otherwise, the action lies within the dialogue to show how language and misrecognition police hyper-femininity.

After a Bimbo-Gang™ squatted the Playboy Mansion (staged), they craved a latte. Sending NELLY out to get them, a whole chain of unexpected (real) events followed. The 'film' (?) mixes documentary footage, GTA & 3D art to capture the 21st Century Queer Bimbo Zeitgeist.
